

BREAKING NEWS | BreakOut Athlete & Connecticut Speed School Are Joining Forces!

BreakOut Athlete ("BOA") and Connecticut Speed School announced that their Boards of Directors have approved an agreement to merge (subject to legal approval). This transaction will create a premier performance company for amateur and professional athletes, differentiated by its ability to deliver best-in-class athletic performance and sport-specific training as well as help athletes, at all levels, achieve their best. BOA is known throughout the United States for its leading athletic performance training; amateur and professional athletes travel from all over the country to train at BOA. In addition, BOA's track record and reputation for preparing NFL prospects for the combine is second to none. "The combination of BOA and Speed School creates an exciting opportunity for our company, and delivers a superior experience for our athletes." said Frank Quido, managing partner and BOA founder. Connecticut Speed School's sport-specific training academies, travel teams, and leagues offer today's amateur athletes an unparalleled opportunity to develop skills within their sports of choice. "This merger also allows student-athletes to leverage Speed School's Academic Advisors and eliteRECRUITS services, which provide critical resources in our student-athlete development model. We look forward to working with Frank as we bring our companies together to deliver the most innovative products and comprehensive services for our student-athletes." said John Coughlin, managing partner and co-founder of Connecticut Speed School.
